

An Eye For The Wild is a Wild life Sanctuary in Zimbabwe , KweKwe.

Owned by Alan and Noelle Austen.

We are a family run business that's deepest passion is the welfare of animals. Our goal is to rehabilitate and release animals back into the wild.

An Eye is a safe haven for all Wild animals, big and small.

We are a nonprofit organization that rely on daily tours and volunteers to help fund our orphanage.

We welcome you to come and enjoy our Wild chaotic life with us!

The conservation and protection of the wildlife is a deep passion of ours, so we provide opportunities for the well-meaning volunteers to get involved with animals in an ethical manner whilst supporting our conservation goals.

At our program volunteers will be involved in anti poaching efforts of bush walks looking for snares and identifying possible poaching sites. At our program there may be many opportunities to have hands on interaction with some animals, but this is not always granted. Direct contact with animals only occurs when necessary.

Our program aims to rehabilitate and release the animals back into the wild. Often these animals have been kept as pets or used for illegal trading, or the parents have been poached so the young is left abandoned, and unfortunately some may not be able to be released back into the wild due to behavioral reasons.

These animals are accustomed to human interaction so the volunteers may touch, hand feed and care for them.

As we are a wild life orphanage and sanctuary we offer an education project, which helps educate the children and adults regarding the conversation and protection of the wildlife of Zimbabwe. Volunteering with children is a sensitive ethical issue in international development.

We are very conscious of the concerns people have regarding the participation of volunteers in projects involving children. On arrival volunteers, will receive comprehensive rules of conduct that must be followed. Comprehension and adherence to these rules are not only crucial for joining our program, but the knowledge gained from them remains of value , long after completion of the program.

We believe in equipping our volunteers with this vital information for life, not just the duration of your stay.

The Volunteers are tasked with multiple responsibilities, helping feed the animals , helping clean enclosures.

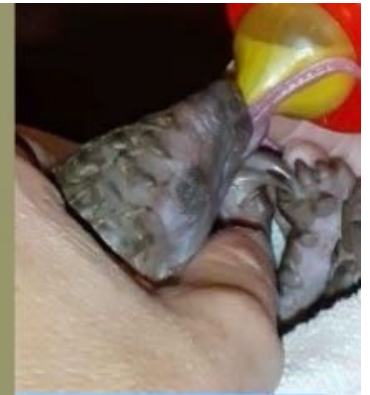

Volunteers not only work with the animals but also for the animals ensuring their safety, doing snare sweeps to prevent poaching , checking boundary fences and re-enforcing their enclosures.

The volunteers will also be part of our education program, helping teach the young and old generations of Zimbabwe communities about the importance of protecting our wildlife, the heritage of Zimbabwe's will always be rich and proud.

This program is suitable for all ages , young and Old , for people who wish to explore Zimbabwe and who have a passion for animals!
